This press release includes "forward-looking statements" within the meaning of the federal securities laws. In addition, we, or our executive officers on our behalf, may from time to time make forward-looking statements in reports and other documents we file with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") or in connection with oral statements made to the press, potential investors or others. All statements that are not historical facts are "forward-looking statements." Forward-looking statements may be indicated by words or phrases such as "anticipate," "estimate," "plans," "expects," "projects," "should," "will," "believes" or "intends" and similar words and phrases. These statements reflect management's current beliefs and are not guarantees of future performance. They involve risks and uncertainties that could cause actual results to differ materially from those expressed or implied in any forward-looking statement.

Additional examples of forward-looking statements in this press release include but are not limited to statements regarding the expected timing and benefits of the offering of notes and the use of proceeds therefrom. These assumptions could prove inaccurate. Although we believe that the estimates and projections reflected in the forward-looking statements are reasonable, our expectations may prove to be incorrect. Factors that might cause or contribute to such differences include, but are not limited to, those discussed in the section entitled "Risk Factors" in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2023 and our Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q for the quarters ended March 31, 2024 and June 30, 2024 which we have filed with the SEC. You should understand that the following important factors, in addition to those discussed in our SEC-filed documents, could affect our future results, and could cause those results or other outcomes to differ materially from those estimates or projections in the forward-looking statements: our ability to consummate the offering of notes on the timeline provided or at all; general economic conditions; difficulty making acquisitions and successfully integrating acquired businesses; any unforeseen liabilities associated with future acquisitions; information technology system failures, data security breaches, network disruptions, and cybersecurity events; failure to comply with new data privacy laws and regulations, including any litigation arising therefrom; risks and costs associated with our international sales and operations; rising interest rates; limitations on our business imposed by our indebtedness; product liability, litigation, and insurance risks; future competition; reduction of business with large customers; risks associated with government contracts; changes in the supply of, or price for, labor, energy, raw materials, parts and components, including as a result of impacts from the current inflationary environment, or supply chain constraints; potential write-offs of our goodwill and other intangible assets; our ability to successfully develop new products; failure to protect our intellectual property; unfavorable changes in foreign exchange rates; difficulties associated with exports/imports and risks of changes to tariff rates; increased warranty exposure; environmental compliance costs and liabilities; the effect of, or change in, government regulations (including tax); risks associated with the use of artificial intelligence; economic disruption caused by armed conflicts (such as the war in Ukraine and the conflict in the Middle East), terrorist attacks, health crises (such as the COVID-19 pandemic), or other unforeseen geopolitical events; and the factors discussed in other reports filed with the SEC.

We believe these forward-looking statements are reasonable; however, you should not place undue reliance on any forward-looking statements, which are based on current expectations. Further, forward-looking statements speak only as of the date they are made, and we undertake no obligation to publicly update any of these statements in light of new information or future events.
